The Erden Collection

HYBRID FLOORING

Trusted partner

Taylor Maxwell has been supplying high-quality timber products for over 60 years, working in partnership with leading manufacturers across the UK and Europe.

With a dedicated flooring showroom in Portishead, specialist flooring section within our Clerkenwell site and an additional 14 locations across the UK, our offering goes far beyond timber—encompassing a wide range of brick and facade solutions.

This breadth of expertise makes us a trusted partner not only in flooring, but across the entire construction industry.

We also understand the importance of the role organisations like ours play in the fight to for a sustainable future. The built environment is a major contributor to global carbon emissions and it is now our challenge to take action and encourage our partners to do the same.

Our mission is to be carbon net zero in our own operations (scope 1 and 2) by 2030 and we're taking steps to reduce our emissions now.

QUALITY FLOORING
TRUSTED SERVICE.

Taylor Maxwell is proud to present the Erden Collection, a sophisticated range of hybrid flooring that meets the requirements of both residential and commercial spaces.

We offer three distinct flooring types within this collection: Lindura, Parquet and Design, each available in three installation variants: comfort, flex and pro.

Crafted with durability and timeless appeal in mind, the collection offers innovative, hardwearing and stylish flooring solutions and uses real wood engineered planks, as well as non vinyl LVT equivalent options.

Lindura

QUALITY FLOORING
TRUSTED SERVICE.

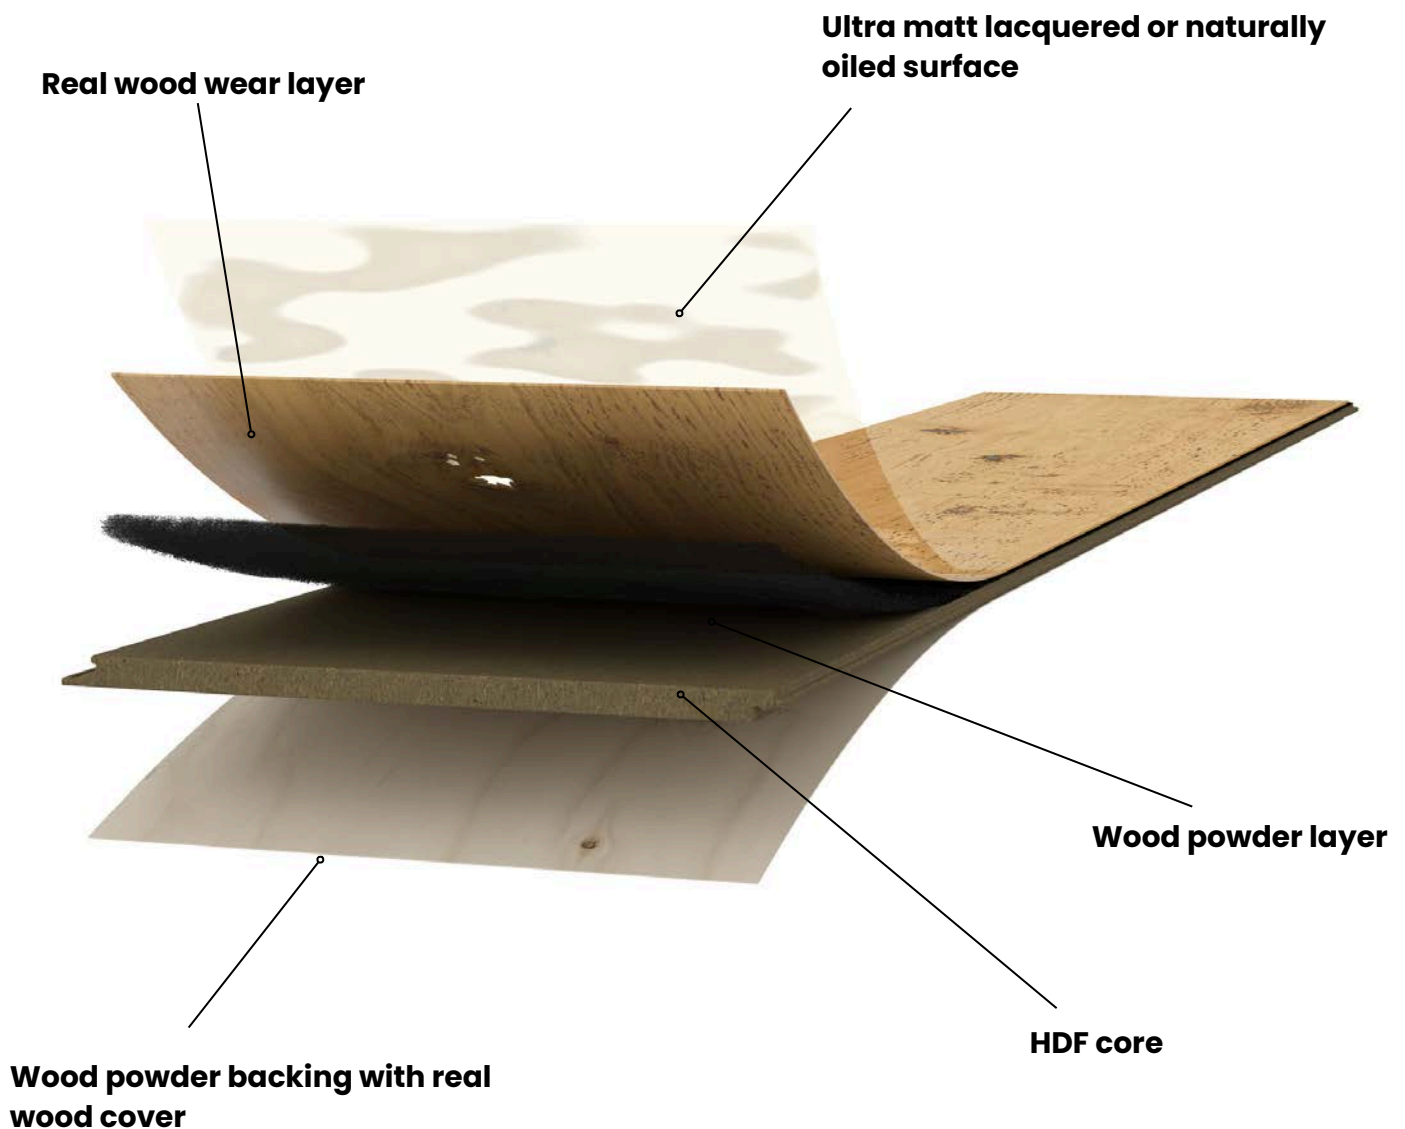

Beautiful flooring for everyday living.

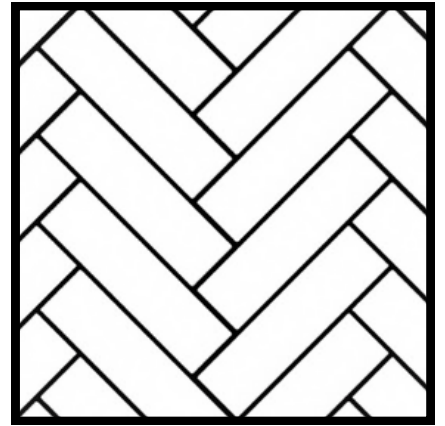

The Lindura range is available in two finishes: naturally oiled and ultra matt lacquered, and in a variety of colourways and gradings. As the market leader in hybrid flooring, Lindura uses wood powder technology to create a dent resistant and stylish surface that will remain a stunning feature in any interior for years to come.

Lindura is also an environmentally conscious choice for your project. Its manufacturing process uses just one-eighth of the wood typically required for standard, multi-layered parquet flooring.

Structure and style

Both our naturally oiled (Weartec Nature) and ultra matt lacquered (Duratec Nature) Lindura wood floor coverings are constructed with a high density fibreboard (HDF) core and a real wood wear layer pressed with wood powder.

Formats

The Lindura range is available in two distinct formats: a generously sized plank and a striking herringbone design. For added design versatility, it's possible to combine the herringbone and plank format together, creating a more intricate and unique aesthetic.

The Lindura range is crafted to support everyday living, striking a perfect balance of practicality and style. While both the ultra matt and naturally oiled finishes are united in quality, there are subtle differences in terms of the practical benefits and colours available.

Lindura Ultra Matt Finish

This finish meets the European standards for fire safety (EN 13 501/Bfl-s1) and complies with the formaldehyde emissions regulations (EN 717-1/E1), ensuring a safe and healthy indoor environment. With its reinforced wood powder layer, the surface is not only incredibly hard wearing, but has a low thermal resistance rating (0.084 m²K/W) when used with the MEISTER-Silence 25 dB insulating underlay. This makes it compatible with underfloor heating systems as the low thermal resistance allows the heat to be easily released into the room.

The surface also benefits from anti-slip and antibacterial properties which adds an extra layer of safety and hygiene, making it ideal for residential and commercial projects. The ultra matt lacquered finish is low maintenance and the most stain and wear resistant of the Lindura range, making it suitable for high traffic indoor locations.

Colours and Finishes

With an extensive palette of carefully curated colourways, the Lindura range has something to suit every style, whether you're aiming for a classic or contemporary design. With the ultra matt finish applied, each shade takes on the elegant appearance of oiled wood, delivering a high quality aesthetic that reflects the care that has gone into creating every board.

If you have a specific colour in mind and you can't see it in this brochure, our team are on hand to offer personalised advice for your project. You will find our contact details at the back of this brochure.

Lindura: Naturally Oiled Finish

This finish complies with the European standards for fire safety (EN 13 501/Bfl-s1) and the formaldehyde emissions regulations (EN 717-1/E1). Like the ultra matt, the naturally oiled finish has a robust wood powder layer that is durable and able to withstand the wear of a typical home or commercial setting. Additionally, this finish boasts anti-slip and antibacterial properties, and has the added benefit of AquaStop edge impregnation technology. This means that each plank is well suited to the humid environment of a kitchen or bathroom.

Our naturally oiled offering has a low thermal resistance rating (0.084 m²K/W) when used with the MEISTER-Silence 25 dB insulating underlay. This makes it compatible with underfloor heating systems as the low thermal resistance allows the heat to be easily released into the room.

Note: To maintain the beauty and performance of the oiled finish, annual reoiling is recommended.

Parquet

QUALITY FLOORING
TRUSTED SERVICE.

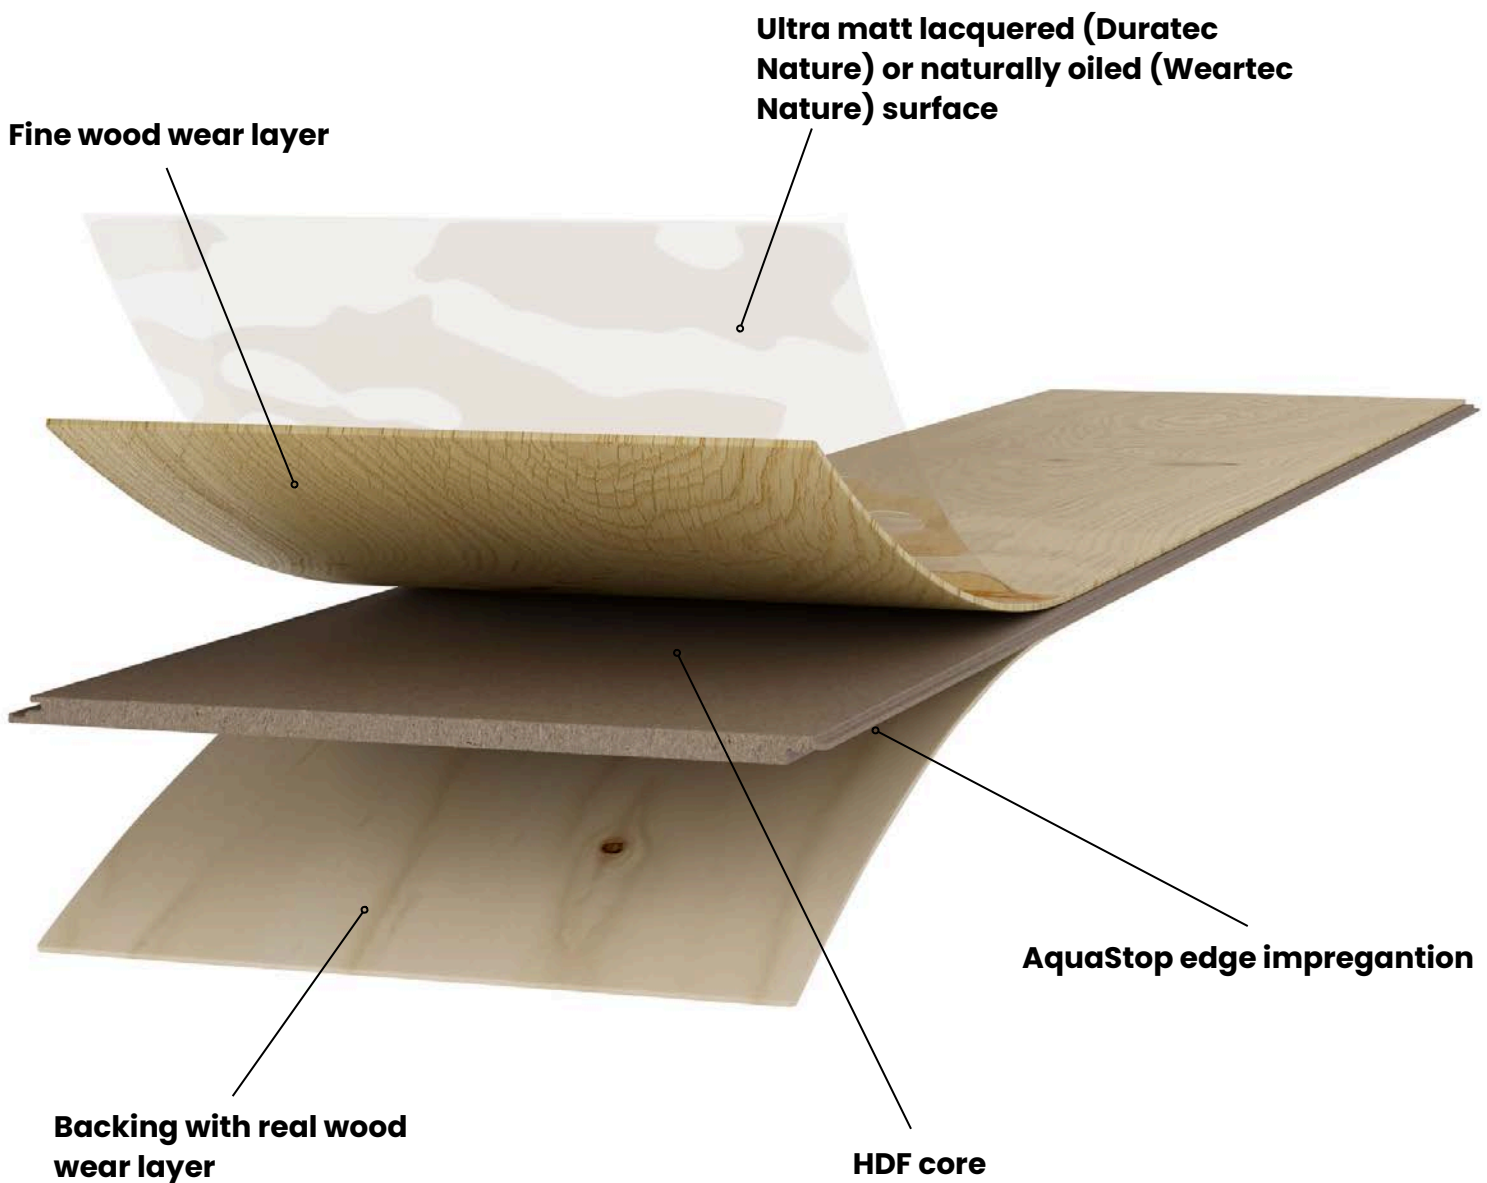

Real wood flooring, made to last.

A true crowd pleaser, our Parquet offering brings an understated charm to any space. Available in a variety of formats, colourways and finishes, this is a versatile flooring that works effortlessly in a contemporary or traditional setting.

Each plank in this high tech, high quality flooring range is finished with a real wood wear layer and is available in a naturally oiled or ultra matt lacquered finish. It was crafted for durability, with a robust core layer made of high density fibre board (HDF) that not only gives it longlife status, but also boasts sound proofing qualities.

Structure and style

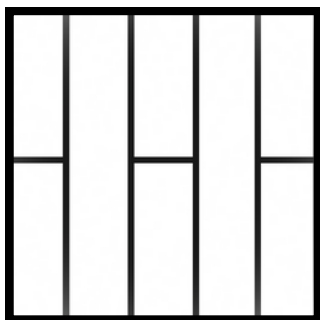

Our longlife Parquet range uses one tenth less wood than standard solid wood flooring, making it a more environmentally friendly choice for your project. It is made up of three layers: a durable HDF core, a premium wood wear layer, and a wood powder backing layer.

Formats

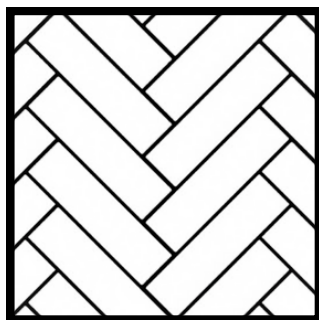

Our Parquet wood flooring is available in a variety of elegant design formats to suit your vision:

We believe your floor covering should be beautiful, innovative and practical. The Parquet range embodies each of these qualities, elevating your project and the way it is experienced.

The structure includes a durable HDF core layer that provides exceptional strength and longevity. It also delivers a heat-insulating effect, making it an excellent choice for underfloor heating. The design provides natural sound proofing due to its greater mass, fostering a calming atmosphere for your project.

Created with everyday living in mind, the Parquet range is water-resistant, using Aqua Stop edge impregnation to protect against standing water for up to four hours (*excluding PS 500). It also uses an innovative locking system that makes it very easy to install. Additionally, this range complies with the formaldehyde emissions regulations (EN 717-1/E1), facilitating a healthy and clean environment for your project.

Our Design range is robust, durable and easy to clean. It benefits from AquaStop edge impregnation technology, which has been incorporated into the design to improve water resistance, and an antibacterial, Puretec® surface layer, which provides protection from abrasions. The result is a flooring product that makes a hardwearing addition to any residential or commercial project.

This range has two installation options: planks with an easy to install click system and a sound absorbing cushion, or ultra-thin flooring for full surface bonding. Both of these approaches are ideal for renovation projects.

The Design range also complies with the European Standards for Fire Safety, achieving a Bfl-s1 rating, and has a formaldehyde emissions rating of EN 717-1/E1.
