glulam / rimboard

Glulam is becoming the product of choice for today's innovative architects, especially where spans exceeding 20m are required.

Curved Glulam is where the aesthetic really shines and can result in some stunning architectural designs.

Our rimboards are dried to 10-12%, thus resolving noisy floor issues when used with I-joists.

We trade in 3 grades – GL24, GL28 and GL32, in both the combined and homogenous productions and can deliver from stock in pack quantities.

clt

Our partners produce for specific jobs, where windows and door openings are created to the client's design.

In fact, if it's design help you are after, we can also provide a focused partnership approach through to construction.

CLT is finding a firm foothold in many new projects where speed of erection is critical and is making dramatic changes to the way we build.
